

Derrick R. Robinson – Executive Director – Global Corporate Finance Controller

Derrick Robinson began his career with JP Morgan Chase in 2006, at the Newark, Delaware location as an analyst and member of the Core Accounting Team. He has held a number of roles in the corporate financial sector including functions impacting reporting, project management, governance, and other financial control aspects. He is currently a global leader heading up Finance's Loans and Deposits Assets Class Control team and lead Finance Controller for Banking Businesses of the newly merged CIB (Commercial & Investment Bank). His role consists a subset of responsibilities primarily focused on ensuring the accuracy and integrity of the Firm's books and records with an emphasis on general ledger, operating systems, and infrastructure controls across the loans and deposits products lifecycles.

Formerly, Derrick helped to create the Firm's Cash Asset Class Control team with a concentration on partnership and governance; managed a central cross line of business control team; headed up the intercompany control team; and assisted with streamlining finance functions globally.

Derrick is heavily involved with networking, philanthropy, and people programs throughout the firm and believes that leadership is an untapped skill set that can be unlocked by anyone that has a vision and perseverance. He enjoys motivational speaking as well as developing people and teams for current and sustainable success. He is a member of the National Association of Black Accountants (NABA), Black Organization for Leadership Development (BOLD), Corporate Controllers Diversity Council, & OCFO Diversity Champions

Derrick's educational background includes a Bachelor of Science degree in Accounting from the University of Delaware and a Master of Business Administration in Marketing Management from Wilmington University in Wilmington, DE. He currently resides in Wilmington, with his wife and two daughters.