Dear Student;

Good evening,

Let me use this opportunity to say congratulations on your decision to enroll in the food production management course. I sincerely hope you are doing well and ready for the fall semester.

This letter is written to inform you that as a student in the food production management course, you are enrolled in a physical/face-to-face course. As a result, you are expected to physically be present on campus for the lab section of this course.

If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact me using the e-mail address included below.

Thank you and be safe!

Kind regards!
